By some means, seemingly little short of miracles, the cutter bar passed over him instead of dragging him along and cutting him to pieces, and although he was cut in so many places, that the attending surgeon, Dr. Brown, of Tom's Brook, was obliged to use forty stitches in closing up the wounds, we are informed that his injuries are not likely to prove serious. It was a truly wonderful escape from death or terrible and lasting injury.

CAMP NOTES.

CAMP SPRINGFIELD, NEAR JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., July 4, '98.

DEAR HERALD:—

This is the "glorious fourth" and the soldiers are making preparations for a grand parade this evening. There will be about 11,000 in line, and probably the largest crowd that has ever been in Jacksonville.

Grand old Gen. Fitzhugh Lee will head the procession.

It has been very dry here for two weeks, but now (8.30 a. m.) we are having a nice rain which will make it more pleasant for marching this evening.

Capt. J. W. Magruder arrived in camp Saturday night and could you have seen the crowd around his tent Sunday morning you could then have formed some idea how much the boys love and respect their captain—in fact all the officers of Co. A. We are living here as one family, with no bravos or disturbances among ourselves. There is no truth in the report that Joe, Laughlin and Frank Coffman had a difficulty, as they are the best of friends and in the language of Joe, "living well and doing well." When these two boys return to Woodstock they will command "big money," as they have developed into first class cooks, as per example for 'tea' yesterday, among other delicacies, we had hot-potatoes. After eating it there was not a member of the company but was sick, I mean home-sick because it (the pie) reminded us of the pot-pies our mothers used to bake.

One of the most busy men in camp is Q. M. Cline, and we do not for him I am afraid that the boys would not grow as fast as they are doing. The weather is simply elegant, sultry, and is furnished from a well 800 feet deep. Ice is furnished to each company which has an individual tank.

Our bath room is one of our greatest luxuries and in order for me to keep clean, he should spend at least 23 hours out of every 24 in the bath. The sand is from 4 to 8 inches deep on the regular streets and roads.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in camp yesterday evening when some "wag" posted on the bulletin board that orders to go to Cuba at once had just been received at headquarters but upon investigation this, like most other reports was found to be false.

The health of the entire camp is good there being only a few in the hospital. Very frequently however we hear of cases of camp caused by eating too much watermelons.

Col. Baker who had been indisposed for a few days has entirely recovered. Whilst Col. West Hoshour is growing more corpulent each day and says he would be perfectly happy if he only had "Huppsy" Keller here with him.

All the boys from Shenandoah seem happy and contented but if you could only see them run, when they hear the welcome call of mail for Co. A. You would know that there were loved ones at home who are not forgotten and who on the other hand have not forgotten the boys.

Saturday evening an exciting game of base ball was played between Woodstock and Harrisonburg resulting in a victory for Woodstock by a score 13 to 7. Batteries for Woodstock Joe Laughlin and Walt Steele (of Winchester). Joe played his usual good game as did all the boys. Don't think that our time is spent in having fun. We are now under the strictest military discipline and we are daily being humbled in closer and closer.

2nd sergeant Saml. L. Sheetz is now acting 1st sergeant with a strong probability that the promotion will be permanent.

I just talked with Lieut. Kinsley and Sam. Clower who say they are well and happy and are having a good time.

The greatest excitement yet was the morning when the news came to camp that Santiago had fallen, and whilst it is against the rules to have any disturbance in camp from retreat until reveille, yet like "Banquo's ghost" the boys would not down at the bidding of the officer. After cheer cheer rent the air, bands played, guns were fired and there was a general rejoicing.

There is not a discontented boy in all camp Cuba Libre today. Tomorrow is pay day.

I cannot mention each and every boy in camp or the messages they send, but all of them incidentally remark that another consignment of good things from Woodstock would be gratefully appreciated, and that Dave Grabill and the rest of the good people will again interest themselves, that as a memento of the cruel war and an evidence of appreciation, each boy will send the donors a dead Spaniard and a live alligator.

Our new brigadier Gen. Hasbrouck, took command of our brigade on Friday. Col. J. C. Baker is now in command of the second regiment and Lieut. Campbell is simply adjutant instead of Acting Asst. Adj. General.

The authorities seem to be exerting themselves to have us fully equipped for the field. This would seem to indicate that they expect us to do some work before long.

Mark Stephenson, of our company has been quite sick with fever. He is at a hotel, in Jacksonville and is well cared for by some ladies.

Private Kitchen, of Co. A. accidentally cut off one of his fingers while splitting kindling wood.

Our first Lieut. has a Kodak and will be able to entertain his friends with pictures of all the interesting scenes in camp, after we go marching home.

The boys seem to have a regular mania for having pictures taken which they send to the dearly beloved, at home, and they receive evidences of appreciation.

As the days roll by, the idea of playing soldier is gradually effaced and we begin to realize that there is something really earnest about a soldier's life. The longer we are away from home the stronger we find the tie that binds us to those whom we have left. Could I present the thoughts of the soldiers on canvas, nine-tenths of them would be air-castles painting the pleasures which we expect to enjoy when we return home. The sombre shades of the picture represent the fleeting thought that it is possible that some of us may never again enjoy that pleasure. But these are driven off as rapidly as they appear and we entertain ourselves with the more entertaining visions of a bright future in the dear old Shenandoah Valley.

Letters To The Soldiers.

The Postoffice Department asks the press to give this notice an insertion or two:

"Friends and relatives of soldiers in the field in addressing letters to them, should mark plainly the company and State regiment to which they belong, as by doing so the distribution of the mail will be facilitated. This applies to both the regular troops and the militia volunteers."

LEE BARGELT'S Ice Cream Parlors are now open for the season. Cream on hand at all times and families supplied at short notice.

A fine line of fresh candies always on hand, also all the leading brands of cigars and tobacco.

Obituary.

Mrs. SERENAH ASTEP.

Mrs. Serenah Astep, an aged lady, who has been living with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Her Brooks, in the west part of town, died Monday afternoon July 4th, about 1.30.

She was in her 74th year, and had been an invalid for a long time, during the latter part of which she suffered the sad affliction of total blindness. She was a member of the Methodist church South, and died in the Christian's hope of a blessed immortality.

Her funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. H. Kennedy. The remains were laid to rest in the new cemetery.

She leaves a number of daughters to mourn their loss.

MISS ANNIE FUNKHouser.

A very sad death, one that calls forth the deepest sympathy of a large number of friends of the deeply afflicted family, was that of Miss Annie Funkhouser, eldest daughter of Capt. R. D. Funkhouser, Superintendent of Poor of this county, which sad event occurred on Saturday at Charlottesville, Va., where she was visiting relatives.

She was a young lady of many estimable traits of character, deeply loved and cherished in her own family as well as in a large circle of friends. Her untimely death, just as she had entered upon the scenes of beautiful womanhood is deeply mourned.

JOHN W. ELICK.

Mr. John W. Ellick died on Thursday night, June 27, at his home in this place. He had been confined to the house since last October, when he was paralyzed. It was believed at first that he would recover owing to his strong constitution, but for several months prior to his death it was apparent that it was a question of a brief time when the end would come. The day previous to dissolution he sustained another paralytic shock, from which he never rallied. He sank into a state of coma, passing away unconscious.

Mr. Ellick was born on September 11, 1850, in Woodstock. He was a son of the late Frederick and Barbara Ellick. He spent his entire life here. He learned the trade of a tinner and had only a short while before being taken ill embarked in business for himself.

The deceased was for a long time a member of the Lutheran church. He was a consistent christian, an exemplary man in all his walks, a man who held the esteem of all who knew him. He was devoted to his family, an affectionate husband and loving father.

Mr. Ellick married Miss Mary I. Storm in 1880 and one child, a daughter, resulted from the union. They were in constant attendance upon him during his long illness. Mr. Ellick is also survived by three sisters and two brothers.

The funeral took place on Friday afternoon from the Lutheran church, Rev. A. J. Bushong, his pastor, officiating.
